

RICHARD "DICK" RUTAN

Aviators (1932 - present)

Rutan and Jeana Yeager (1952 - present) completed the first non-stop (not even for re-fueling) flight around the world on Dec. 14-23, 1986. The flight took 9 days, 3 minutes and 44 seconds and was completed in a plane designed by Rutan's younger brother, aerospace designer Burt Rutan.